

Utah State University
Geology Graduate Program

Graduate Opportunity: DIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIP

The Department of Geology at USU seeks outstanding applicants for a Diversity Scholarship starting Fall 2019. This provides support in the form of a competitive stipend of $24,000/year, plus tuition and health benefits for a total of over $42,000/year.

The Department of Geology has a strong field-oriented tradition, but also significant analytical facilities, with a location in northern Utah surrounded by excellent outdoor opportunities. We are dedicated to promoting diversity in the Geosciences and encourage applications from a variety of under-represented groups such as African Americans, Hispanic/Latinos, and Native Americans/Alaskans.

Visit <http://geology.usu.edu> for more information about our program and possible faculty mentors, and contact recruiting coordinator Dr. Rittenour (tammy.rittenour@usu.edu) with questions. Applications are due January 8, 2019 at <http://www.usu.edu/graduateschool/>.
